A MIRACULOUS ESCAPE FROM INSTANT DEATH.—On Thursday forenoon last, J. P. Anderson, Esq., Mrs. Anderson, their youngest son, of some eight years, and Mrs. Carothers, were taking a pleasure ride in a two-horse carriage, on the turnpike below town. The pike crosses the railroad several times within a distance of four miles, and as the carriage was crossing the track at the lower end of the cut about three miles below town, the locomotive of a freight train also going east, struck the hind part of the carriage immediately where Mr. A. was sitting, crushing in the body and throwing it off the track, making a complete wreck of it. Mr. A. was thrown some distance from the carriage, and when found, was lying on his face in the mud near the track, in an insensible condition. The rest of the party were thrown in different directions, with the wrecked carriage. Mr. A. received three or four slight cuts and bruises about the head and face, and was severely hurt about the back and hips, but no bones were broken. Mrs. A., Mrs. C., the boy, and the driver, John Thomas, were bruised considerably, but not seriously hurt. Workmen on the railroad in the neighborhood came to their assistance, and in a short time, physicians and a number of our citizens were in attendance, and after Mr. A. had sufficiently recovered, he was brought home in a carriage. We are pleased to know that he is rapidly recovering from the injuries received.

The train could not be seen by those in the carriage in time to avoid the accident—and had the carriage been a second later in crossing the track, the whole party could not have escaped being instantly crushed to death. The train was running at its usual speed, and it is said the engineer neglected to sound the whistle when in the cut, as he is required. We are also informed that the engineer proceeded on his way without stopping the train to learn the extent of the injury he had done.

HORRIBLE ACCIDENTS.—On Wednesday last, while a freight train was standing on the siding at Newton Hamilton, the engine blew up, instantly killing Daniel Fisher, the engineer, and Benj. Gushard, the fireman. The engineer was thrown about seventy-five feet from the engine and was horribly mangled. The fireman was also thrown a considerable distance and terribly cut and bruised. No other persons about the train, so far as we have been able to learn, were injured. Fisher was taken to Altoona, where he resided. He leaves a wife and two children. Gushard was a single man, and had his home at Patterson, to which place his remains were taken for interment.

ANOTHER.—An engine at Wrightsville, York county, also exploded on Thursday last, killing Charles Geiselman, the engineer, and Jesse Bostner, the fireman. They were both residents of York. Geiselman leaves a wife and several small children.

PATRIOTIC.—The war times influence most persons to keep a sharp look out for bargains in making their purchases, and when they find a friend as patriotic and fair in his dealings with customers as A. B. CUNNINGHAM, they invariably make it a point to deal with such a person. CUNNINGHAM'S New Store is on Hill street, in the upper end of town. *

☞ The object of Archbishop Hughes' visit to Europe, the Dublin Freeman's Journal says, is to obtain a sufficient number of Catholic clergymen to afford a chaplin to each of the Union regiments requiring one.

BROAD TOP—IMPROVEMENTS, &c.—We circulated in the Broad Top region on Saturday last. The progressive hand of improvement can be seen in almost every object that meets the eye in that country. The railroad is being improved and strengthened, and is now worked to its utmost capacity, trains running day and night. At Saxton, our friend Raum has built a new end to his hotel, and Charley Faxon, the popular and gentlemanly weigh-master, is putting up a new house, which he intends to have finished by spring. Although the late freshet destroyed all the bridges and a considerable portion of the track between Saxton and the mines, the damage has all been repaired and is now more substantial and durable than ever.

Great improvements are also going on at Six Mile Run, and coal is being shipped from that point in considerable quantities. Messrs. James Maguire and John B. Given, of this place, have opened a bank on a branch of this run, which promises to yield largely and pay the gentlemen handsomely for their enterprise.

The Bedford railroad will be completed as far as Bloody Run by the first of January, which will open a still wider field of operation.

All these improvements are attributable to the energetic manner in which the road is managed. Mr. Lawrence, the Superintendent, is untiring in his labors. Mr. Fulton, the Resident and Mining Engineer, is an indefatigable worker, and when he begins a thing, he pushes it through without much delay. Mr. Black, Boss Carpenter of the road, is another go-ahead fellow, and never allows anything to lay on his hands very long. Altogether, the managers and employees of the Broad Top road, are gentlemanly and obliging, persevering and energetic, and no one knows it better than ourself.

SHORTS.—A miner was instantly killed in one of McHugh's mines on Broad Top, on Thursday last, by a quantity of coal falling on him.——The B. T. R. R. Co. are filling up the trestle work with dirt, between their depot and the canal bridge, which will make it as substantial and durable as any other part of the road.——The weather for a few days past has been as warm and pleasant as the month of May.——Game is said to be very plenty on Broad Top. We met a party on Saturday just starting out on a deer hunt, who promised to show us at least two dead deer in the evening.—Evening came and the hunters returned, but alas for human expectations! They had 'nary a deer. They saw four or five, but could not get close enough to shoot them.——A rail broke on the Broad Top road at Coffee Run, on Wednesday, and threw two or three cars down the high embankment just this side of the bridge. The flagman of the train made a most miraculous escape. He was on the hind car, and while the accident was taking place, he ran forward to the next car and jumped on it just as the one he was leaving went over the bank. The car he jumped on, was thrown square across the track. Nobody hurt.——The Ebensburg and Cresson branch of the Penna. Central Railroad has been completed, and the Alleghanian goes into ecstacies over the advent of the iron horse into Ebensburg, and says:—On last Monday morning, the 2d inst., at precisely the hour of 11.15, the Iron Horse made its grand entree into Ebensburg for the First Time! Attached to the aforsaid Iron Horse was a car, filled to overflowing with passengers. Since then it has made two round trips per day, each subsequent trip giving evidence that the Road will meet the fullest expectations, both financially and practically, of all concerned.——An exchange says our young friends in the army need be under no apprehensions concerning the constancy of their sweet-hearts, as he heard one say a few evenings since, that she would wait ten years for her "dear ——."——James Green, Benjamin Williams, Henry Fisher, and Porter Couch, of this place, left for the seat of war on Wednesday last. They go as firemen on gun-boats, on the Mississippi. Success to them.——Bro. Pot of the Standard tells us to make a note of his claims to beauty! Well, we don't know, but we think he and the Ebensburg beauty are in cohoot, and mean to swear each other through, regardless of conscience and everything else. Go in, boys, you can't rob us of our claims to that embellishment!——"The pork season is upon us," and the shrill scream of the dying porker echoes and re-echoes all around us this morning.——An exchange says that in its vicinity the matrimonial fever is raging as an epidemic. If the disease should break out here, there are many fair ones who would fall victims. Indood, a pert young piece of calico intimates that it is an epidemic sadly needed in this region. We think so too; and we know of some young men whose morals and shirt buttons would be vastly improved by an attack.

☞ Gov. Letcher, of Virginia, in his late message, regrets that Fortress Monroe is not in the possession of the Southern Confederacy—and urges a forward movement, and says that the banks of the Potomac is not the place to fight, but the struggle should take place on the banks of the Susquehanna.

NO SOLDIERS TO BE WINTERED AT HARRISBURG.—The Harrisburg Daily Telegraph says it has information from a reliable source, that all the camps in that neighborhood will soon be broken up—that it is not the intention of the Government to winter troops in that vicinity. The soldiers will either be sent Dixieward, or to some camp in another part of the State.

☞ A grey Eagle was shot in Barree township, on the 4th inst., by Mr. John Stowart, Jr., measuring seven feet from tip to tip. We have a quill from one of the wings, which we intend to use in writing receipts for all money due us for subscription, advertising, and job work. Step up to our desk before it is too late.

☞ We are pleased to see that a bill has been introduced in Congress, to abolish the sutlers in the volunteer regiments. Sutlers may not be all alike, but from the general complaint of private soldiers, we think a large majority of them are a nuisance in the army. At Camp Crosman, we know much mischief and little good resulted from the opening of sutler shops.

SOMETHING NEW.—We had a plate of very fine oysters at E. C. Summers' Saloon last week, cooked in the shell by steam. This new process of cooking oysters is a great improvement over the old stew. We advise all lovers of good oysters to try a dozen cooked by steam.

A. B. CUNNINGHAM.—We are pleased to learn that this gentleman is doing quite a lively business at his new store. New customers flock to his counter every day to examine and buy his new goods. *

SALE OF REAL ESTATE.—We call the attention of persons wishing to purchase valuable real estate, to Trustee's Sale in Cass township, on Friday and Saturday next.

☞ German and English Almanacs for 1862, for sale wholesale and retail at Lewis' Book Store.

Our Army Correspondence.

CAMP HAMILTON, FORTRESS MONROE,
November 28, 1861.

DEAR GLOBE:—My last to you was from Camp Curtin, in which I told you we were about going to leave. We struck our tents on the afternoon of the 20th, marched to the cars about dark, and after the usual delay of loading, &c., we started for Baltimore. We passed over part of the road before daylight, and consequently could not tell much about the country. Some of the cars were very full, as each company was allowed three cars. We were cheered at every house we passed after daylight, on our way through Maryland. We arrived in Baltimore about ten o'clock, A. M., marched down to the railroad station and received a good dinner of bread, cheese, and hot coffee, from the Union Relief Association. After dinner we again took up the line of march for "Locust Point." We passed Federal Hill on which the Zouaves were stopping about apparently quite at home.

At the Point we embarked on the Thomas Swan and Virginia, and started for Fortress Monroe. While engaged in putting our tents and other baggage on the boats, a man belonging to a company from Harrisburg, jumped overboard and was drowned. We arrived at the fort about sundown on the 22d, marched out about two miles, pitched our tents, and were soon sleeping on the sacred soil of Virginia.—We hear the rebels firing from Sewall's Point and other points below here.

I paid a visit to Fortress Monroe this morning; it is a strong looking fortification, and to one like myself, as it is rumored that our entire Brigade is to be filled and sent to South Carolina.

A description of this camp is to you unnecessary as you have favored us with a visit in persona since our removal here.

We request a space in your next issue to tender a Card of thanks to the ladies of Huntingdon and vicinity for the kindness they manifested to us on our departure from that place.

Among our benefactresses we recognized the faces of Mrs. Dr Brewster, and Mrs. S. T. Brown, who distinguished themselves by their strenuous exertions to render our situation comfortable on that gloomy morn. Indeed all the fair ladies of your town, may rest assured that they will ever be held in grateful remembrance by the "Juniata" boys.

Yours truly,
VERITAS.

WAR NEWS.

FROM PORT ROYAL.

Reconnoissance Within Twenty Miles of Charleston.

Three Batteries Captured and the Guns Spiked.

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—A letter from Port Royal, received by the steamer Vanderbilt, states that the 79th New York regiment made a reconnoissance towards Charleston, capturing three batteries, and, after spiking the guns, they returned, having approached within twenty miles of Charleston.—A large amount of cotton was found ready for shipment, but the rebels were destroying much of it.

About a thousand contrabands were employed about the forts, and others were coming in.

The New York Express, of last evening, contains the following additional intelligence from Port Royal, received by the steamer Vanderbilt. The Express says:

The chief steward of the Vanderbilt furnished us with an interesting statement of the movements of the troops and the condition of the negroes. He states that a few days before the steamer left Port Royal, Capt. Falkner, with a scouting party of fifteen men, proceeded about seven miles beyond Beaufort, where they discovered a rebel fort on Ladies Island.—The party opened a brisk fire for the purpose of discovering if the stronghold was garrisoned and the number of troops ready to defend it. A rapid reply was soon received in the shape of a large shell which burst near the party, and soon after the troops in the fort were discovered retreating.

There were about 300 soldiers, including artillerists, in the fort, and its evacuation created some surprise from Captain Falkner and his command; but it soon appeared that the rebels had believed that the scouts were but the advance guard of a large force, and the evacuation was thus accounted for. Captain Falkner then cautiously took possession of the fort; but subsequently considering that there was no military necessity to hold it, withdrew his command, after having spiked the guns. The 79th Highlanders are now located at Fort Beauregard.

The negroes are represented to be in a most demoralized condition. On St. Helena Island—one of the numerous group near Port Royal—there are two plantations, which recently belonged to Mr. Jenkins and Mr. Collin, formerly of Savannah. On those plantations are about two thousand negroes, who refuse to work, and claim that, as their masters had left, the property belonged to them.

They have taken possession of all the sheep, poultry, and other edibles, which were abundant on the island, and now sell them to the troops. So many have been their sales already that in about a month hence, it is considered that there will be nothing left on the island but the cotton.

A few days before the Vanderbilt left, two United States gunboats sailed on a cruise up the Beaufort river, and on their return the officers reported that they had discovered large fields of cotton, already stored for removal, at about four miles distant from the city. Gunboats were again sent to remove the cotton, but it was found that a torch had been applied to it during the night, and the whole crop was consumed.

Tybee Island was still under the direct control of several United States gunboats, but it was deemed not advisable to land troops on it till reinforcements arrived. There are gunboats and other vessels in the vicinity sufficient to convey fifteen thousand troops a distance of a few hundred miles; and as I was thus enjoying myself the report of a cannon sounded in my ears, which woke me up, and where do you suppose I was. I had my hat turned upside down and I was in it, sitting on the bugle, brightening the brass works of my hat. This was told by a soldier.

In this letter I must not forget the ladies of Alexandria. Yesterday our teamster came in camp with a very large box weighing 400 pounds. No one could tell what it contained; some said it was things for the quarter master's department, others said it was winter clothing, no one could tell what it was. But it was not long until the tale was told. The box was turned up and one of the Alexandria boys being present spied the directions, and cried out, "It is for us," although it was dark. It was soon conveyed to the quarters of company I, and opened, in which we found a keg of apple butter, twelve or thirteen rolls of butter, dried apples, tomatoes, jellies, peaches, nuts, plums, pears, apples, catsup and to top off with, enough almanacs to supply the regiment. All this was sent by the patriotic ladies of Alexandria.—Ladies we give you our sincere thanks for the cost and trouble you have gone to. You have done enough to show your patriotic feelings towards those who are trying to suppress this great rebellion. May God bless you, and help the other ladies to get up another box by the time this one is done.

I will close my truthful epistle, and ask for Frank of the Forty-ninth. I wonder if he is laying in the entrenchments. I am yours,

ISLA DE CUBA.

CAMP CURTIN, Dec. 6th, 1861.

EDITORS GLOBE:—The "Juniata Regiment" is still in "Camp Curtin" waiting for marching orders to go South, as it is rumored that our entire Brigade is to be filled and sent to South Carolina.

A description of this camp is to you unnecessary as you have favored us with a visit in persona since our removal here, homes, and, under the military law of retaliation, quarter them in the houses, feed and clothe them at the expense of avowed secessionists, who, although they do not themselves rob and plunder, give aid and encouragament to abet and countenance such acts of their fellow rebels.

GOOD NEWS FROM TENNESSEE!

Parson Brownlow Heard from.

THE REBELS TOTALLY ROUTED BY HIM.

Battle at Morristown, East Tennessee.

CAIRO, Ill., Dec. 5.—The Memphis Avalanche, of the 2d inst., contains the following:

A large body of Unionists attacked the Confederate pickets at Morristown, in East Tennessee, yesterday, killed a large number of the Southern troops, and completely routed them.

Maj. Gen. Crittenden has arrived at Knoxville to take command of the Confederate forces.

LATER.—A special despatch to the Memphis papers of the 2d gives an account of a great battle at Morristown, East Tennessee, between the Federal forces, under Parson Brownlow, and the rebels. The battle was fought on the 1st December. The Federals were victorious. The rebel despatch goes so far as to term it "the first Union victory."

Brownlow had 3,000 men. The rebel force is not estimated.

The rout of the rebels was total, according to their own showing.

South Carolina Planters Burning their Cotton.

CHARLESTON, S. C., Nov. 30, (via Memphis and Cairo.)—Patriotic planters on the seaboard are hourly applying the torch to their crops of cotton and rice. Along the coast there is one sheet of flame and smoke.

FROM MISSOURI.

Energetic Speech by Gen. Prentiss.

Secessionists to Take the Oath or Dig in the Trenches.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Dec. 5.—General Prentiss made a speech to a large crowd of citizens yesterday, in which he said: "As God is my judge, every Secessionist in this city shall take an oath of allegiance to the United States Government and support the stars and stripes, or I will send them to work in the trenches of Fort Smith. All persons who are hereafter found expressing Secession sentiments shall take the oath."

This speech caused great consternation among the Secessionists, and was received with applause by the loyal citizens.

Troops were sent down to Platte county last night to look after L. I. Gordon's band of rebels.

SEDALIA, Dec. 6.—Our latest intelligence from the south is that General Price has moved a part of his force from Osceola to a point five miles distant, where he has established his headquarters. Gen. Rains commands the remainder, at Osceola.

A train of four wagons from Lexington, laden with supplies for Price's army, passed unmolested within fifteen miles of this place, on Monday last.

There are four rebel recruiting offices open in Lexington, enlisting recruits for Price's army.

Fright of the Rebels at Memphis.

CAIRO, Ill. Dec. 5.—The following items are from the Memphis papers of the 2d:

General Trovassant publishes a long communication in the Memphis Appeal, showing the insufficiency of the rebel defences at and above Memphis. He says: "Columbus once lost, and the Federals would have no trouble in marching directly to Memphis. Memphis is entirely defenceless and indefensible."

He calls upon every male citizen of the State to enroll, and threatens all who do not with death.

The rebels are sending their cotton to North Alabama for safety.

Coffee is quoted at $1 per pound in Memphis, and there is none to be had.

Bacon is quoted at 69 cents, and other provisions in proportion.

THE LATEST NEWS.

BOSTON, Dec. 7.—Next week, eleven officers and two hundred and forty privates of the North Carolina regiment captured at Hatteras, will be sent to Fortress Monroe from Fort Warren, and released on parole.

An equal number of our men will be released from Richmond.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—The House Military Committee at their meeting this morning had before them the question of a general exchange of prisoners, and they have decided to report a bill for that purpose.

A bill has been introduced to-day in the House making contractors who defraud the Government punishable under the charge of felony.

The Memphis Avalanche confirms the Federal victory in Morristown, East Tennessee, and thinks Maj. Gen. Crittenden will overcome the Union forces. It was rumored at Memphis that the Federals became alarmed for the safety of St. Louis, and that Cairo and Paducah are being evacuated by the Federal troops who are going to St. Louis with all possible despatch.

"Always gay," is a soldier's life. A volunteer's recent letter says: "My wife came on to see me at our camp, Thank Heavens she brought needles and thread with her. My raglan was nearly played out; my pants had been drilled to death; I have been walking in my boot-legs for three weeks. I wish my wife was a shoemaker. The boys will soon have their new harness. We are as happy as bob-tail horses in fly time."

The Tyrone and Clearfield Railroad is graded from Tyrone to Phillipsburg, a distance of 23 miles. The track is completed 12 miles out from Tyrone, and will be finished to Phillipsburg by the 1st of January next.

David Strouse, well known as the General Superintendent of the Military Telegraph lines at the commencement of the war, died at Mexico, Juniata county, Pa., on the 23d ult. He was in his 24th year.

HOMES FOR THE INDUSTRIOUS

IN THE

GARDEN STATE OF THE WEST.

The Illinois Central Railroad Company have for Sale

1,200,000 ACRES

Of Rich Farming Lands in Tracts of Forty Acres and Upward, on Long Credit and at Low Prices.

MECHANICS, FARMERS, AD WORKI OMEN,

The attention of the enterprising and industrious portion of the community is directed to the following statements and liberal inducements offered them by the

ILLI OIS CENTRAL RAILROAD COMPANY,

Which, as they will perceive, will enable them, by proper energy, perseverance, and industry, to provide comfortable and permanent homes for themselves and families, with, comparatively speaking, very little capital.

LANDS OF ILLINOIS.

No State in the valley of the Mississippi offers so great an inducement to the settler as the State of Illinois.—There is no portion of the world where all of the conditions of climate and soil so admirably combine to produce those two great staples, corn and wheat, as the prairies of Illinois.

RICH ROLLING PRAIRIE LANDS.

The deep rich loam of the prairies is cultivated with such wonderful facility that the farmers of the Eastern and Middle States are moving to Illinois in great numbers. The area of Illinois is about equal to that of England, and the soil is so rich that it will support twenty millions of people.

EASTERN AND SOUTHERN MARKETS.

These lands are conveyed to a railroad seven hundred miles in length, which connects with other roads and navigable lakes and rivers, thus affording an unbroken communication with the Eastern and Southern markets.

APPLICATION OF CAPITAL.

Thus far capital and labor have been applied to develop ing the soil; the great resources of the State in coal and iron are almost untouched. The invariable rule that the mechanic arts flourish best where food and fuel are cheapest, will follow at an early day in Illinois, and the course of the next ten years the natural laws and necessities of the case warrant the belief that at least five hundred thousand people will be engaged in the State of Illinois in the various manufacturing employments.

RAILROAD SYSTEM OF ILLINOIS.

Over $100,000,000 of private capital have been expended on the railroad system of Illinois. Inasmuch as part of the income from several of these works, with a valuable public fund in lands, go to diminish the State expenses, the taxes are light, and must consequently every day decrease.

THE STATE DEBT.

The State debt is only $10,105,326 14, and within the last three years has been reduced $2,952,746 80; and we may reasonably expect that in ten years it will become extinct.

PRESENT POPULATION.

The State is rapidly filling up with population; 863,025 persons having been added since 1850, making the population 1,719,496—a ratio of 102 per cent. in ten years.

AGRICULTURAL PRODUCTS.
